Vol. 30, No. 24

Editor: Karen Strickland

It was a wintery and very snowy day, but a very respectable contingent of 17 hardy Rotarians made their way to Marly's for our meeting today.

Incoming President Frank Spencer led the meeting, as our current chief Luis was busy at work after a holiday vacation in Guatemala.

No guests were present, and since there was no program or speaker today we adjourned early after the following announcements:

Patty Sweeney thanked everyone who helped put Rotary bookplates into the dictionaries at Paul Hafter's shop and also those who volunteered to assist with their distribution to 3rd graders at Cider Mill School, which had been scheduled for this morning but was postponed until next Friday, Jan. 14 due to the snow.

Pat Russo said that we will be installing more smoke detectors in the homes of senior citizens during February.

Carnival is scheduled for Sept. 16-18.

Richard Kent is making preparations for this year's Craft Fair on May 29. Envelope-stuffing session for vendor solicitation will be coming up soon.

Next Board meeting is Jan. 20, Club Assembly is Feb. 4.

Frank Spencer is recruiting people for next year's Board and committee assignments, so all who are interested should contact him now. New Rotary year starts July 1. He also thanked everyone who made a contribution to the Rotary Foundation, which helps our club meet its annual goal.

Karen reminded everyone that up to $3K in matching grant funds are available from the District to support our local projects. We should be applying so that club money can go further.

NEXT WEEK'S PROGRAM: Cathy Pierce, Director of Wilton Social Services

Drive carefully and get home safely in the snow! See you next week.
