Program

Michael Marino from CRIS Radio, Connecticut's talking newsstand for the blind and print-handicapped, gave an interesting presentation on how people who cannot see or read are able to stay informed and engaged in the world around them. Listeners hear the broadcast via either: a pre-tuned radio, cable TV connected to an FM radio, a telephone reader, or at www.crisradio.org. Listeners can hear news, sports, obituaries (a favorite), and more. New initiatives are targeting Spanish-speakers and those in nursing homes. CRIS Radio is a 501(c)(3) charity and is reaching out to social service organizations in an effort to serve more people in need.

Next Meeting is at Marley's Restaurant in Wilton Friday February 4, 2011.
