Program

Julie Jason, member of the Taxpayer Advocacy Panel, was our speaker. She is a columnist for the Norwalk and Stamford Advocates, and Greenwich Times. Her entire message was that the IRS is trying to be better at customer service and she is who you should contact if you are having big issues with the IRS. As a tax advocate, one of about 100 members, she brings consumer issues to the IRS and the government, both state and regional. If anyone is having pressing issues, you may contact her at readers@juliejason.com and she will do her best to get your questions answered. This position is a volunteer, 3 yr term, commitment, and if interested also contact Julie.

See you soon Pam
