Vol. 33, No. 8

Editor: Karen Strickland

---

Today's meeting hosted 18 Wilton Rotarians and 2 guests, Peg Koellmer of Realty Seven and Carol Bogart. President Paul led the program on a lovely day before the long Labor Day weekend.

Announcements:

1. Paul announced that Bill Meehan has agreed to assume the prestigious role of Editor-In-Chief of the Drummer, taking the place of Bill Glass. This means that Bill M. will be making the scheduling assignments and ensuring that any untoward copy not meeting the 4-way test doesn't find its way into the weekly issues.
2. A sign-up sheet for the Carnival shifts was circulated. Pat said there are still several unfilled shifts, so please try to be available for this important fundraiser. Pat is working on food vendors and the many other details connected with this big event.
3. The District is sponsoring Rotary Night at the Red Sox game in Boston on Sept. 4, and 6 tickets are still available. Contact President Paul if you can go.
4. Latest Rotarian Magazine has hit the mailboxes, highlights will be given next week.
5. No Monday night fireside chat with President Paul on Labor Day.
6. Bud Boucher has New Canaan Lobsterfest tickets that will help benefit our American Legion Post, also a reminder that Norwalk Rotary has a booth at the Oyster Festival.
7. Karen plugged the Y Golf Outing at Rolling Hills on Sept. 23.

Program: Melissa Baker, Media Librarian at the Wilton Library

Melissa gave a terrific presentation about the Library's new trove of downloadable videos, books, magazines and music. You have to be a member of the Library with a library card to take advantage of this service, and having an iPad really helps too. Lots of indie flix, jazz and classical music can be streamed directly to you, with loads of books and magazines available for online borrowing. Great for stocking up before a long car trip or endless hours at the airport. Check out the Library's website for more information. Elaine Tai-Lauria announced that September is Library Card Sign-Up Month, and this year there will be a special push with local businesses. So if you're not yet a card-carrying member, just do it!

Enjoy the Labor Day weekend!

NEXT MEETING: Friday, September 6, Governor Rick's Official Visit, Board meets with him at Paul's office 11 am prior to regular Rotary meeting at Marly's.
