Program

Carl Bailey, a successful financial executive, spoke to us about his current passion, the Connecticut Quest for Peace, an organization he is affiliated with that arranges for cleft palate corrective surgery for young children in Managua, Nicaragua. Carl, a Danbury native, has been active in this cause for the past 5 years and has raised over $500,000 for transportation and medical treatment. He has been featured in the local press and has close ties with the Danbury Rotary Club and the Rotary Club in Managua. Carl is also a founder of Danbury Grass Roots Tennis, an organization that helps inner city kids develop their tennis skills. His priority at the moment is to raise funds to help pay for a recovery room at the hospital in Managua.

See you Friday at the Greens at Cannondale.....Bill
